

Agenda Item V: Proposed Amendment to the TPO Statute

a. Addition of Regional Meetings to Article 8 and Article 12 of the Statute

as of August 29, 2025

1. Background

TPO Regional Meetings have significantly evolved in recent years, serving as key platforms for members to exchange ideas, address region-specific priorities, and advance cooperation. These meetings have strengthened coordination and provided meaningful input into the broader organizational agenda.

Discussions held during the 2025 Regional meetings in Vietnam, Korea, China, Malaysia, and Indonesia as well as during the 44th TPO Executive Committee Meeting identified a clear consensus on formalizing Regional Meetings within the TPO governance framework. The proposed amendment aims to codify these meetings as official consultation mechanisms, thus enhancing their legitimacy, operational consistency, and the integration of regional inputs into the Organization’s governance framework.

2. Current Statutory Reference and Rationale

2.1 Existing TPO Statute Provisions

The current TPO Statute includes a limited reference to Regional Meetings under Article 10, Paragraph 9, which states:

“To ensure the efficient operation of the Organization, the Executive Committee may form regional meetings and subcommittees that will carry out specific tasks assigned to them.”

While this provides a basic legal basis, it does not define their purpose, authority, structure, or operational procedures, resulting in variations across regions.

2.2 Rationale for Formalization

Without explicit statutory recognition, Regional Meetings differ in structure, frequency, and scope. This leads to inconsistent expectations and outputs. Codifying their status will:

- Establish clear standards for convening, agenda-setting, and reporting
- Improve coordination and inclusiveness
- Ensure regional perspectives are more systematically integrated into TPO-wide decision-making

3. Member Consensus and Agreed Elements

During the Regional Meetings 2025 and the 44th Executive Committee discussions, members broadly agreed on the following principles for codifying Regional Meetings in the Statute:

Category	Agreed-upon / Consensus
Purpose & Mandate	Official consultation mechanism for policy input and project coordination
Leadership & Management	Chair: TPO Secretariat; Co-Chair: Host City
Structure & Composition	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Regional boundaries based on current practice, region-specific, member density, geographic proximity • Primarily TPO members as eligible participants; non-members invited when necessary
Frequency & Operation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Annual meetings with standardized notification period • Primarily in-person meetings with hybrid/virtual options when necessary
